Polio Theory Here Is Upheld By Specialist

Salem Boys Show Definite Symptoms At Akron Hospital

"There is nothing else we can call this except polio," said Dr. Louis Lame of Akron Children's Hospital today. He had been questioned on the possibility that four Salem High boys might be suffering from another disease.

"At the present time the diagnosis is polio unless proved otherwise," he added. "We'll be able to tell next week if any of the boys will have any lasting weaknesses from the disease."

The doctor said Jimmy Judge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Judge of 352 E. Third st., has shown some weakness in his legs. Dr. Lame said a bone specialist is being called in as a consultant.

James Callahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Callahan of 1443 Cleveland st., has been having muscle spasms in his back the last two days and hot packs have been applied.

"Callahan's neck is better, though," the physician reported. "It was rather stiff when he came here."

He said if the boy's back responds there is no reason he should not be playing basketball within "a month or two."

Hot packs also are being used on Tony Colian Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Colian Sr. of 411 N. Ellsworth ave., who has had some muscle stiffness.

Walter Wisler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schmidt of 999 Liberty st., has had no muscle trouble and has not been treated with hot packs.

Dr. Lame said he is convinced the disease is polio, adding that the symptoms are identical with cases of polio treated in the hospital for years.

His opinion was backed by that voiced by Dr. Charles R. Freebie, chief of the communicable disease division of the Ohio Department of Health, who visited here Wednesday.

"I'm sure you have polio here," he said, "but it's not epidemic." Dr. Freebie said he thought there would be a few more cases before it ended. He believes, however, that "the situation is well in hand" and that safeguards should be followed.

The condition of the four Salem boys in the Akron hospital was reported good again today. They are receiving heavy mail from Salem friends, one boy getting 32 cards Wednesday morning.

G. O. P. Candidates' Wives Visit Here To Aid Campaign

For the first time in the history of the Salem Republican party, a caravan of state, district and county candidates wives visited the city Wednesday in the interest of a political campaign.

The women attended a Republican luncheon at 1 p. m. in the Memorial building. Mrs. John W. Astory of Salem, county chairwoman, presided and introduced Mrs. Elizabeth Linard of Bellaire who presented the visitors.

In the group were: Mrs. Don H. Ebright, whose husband is seeking the governorship; Mrs. George H. Bender (candidate for congressman-at-large); Mrs. Robert L. Quinn (candidate for the 18th district congressman); Mrs. Roger Tracy (candidate for state treasurer) and Mrs. Francis Douglas (chief justice of the supreme court).

Mrs. J. Eugene Roberts (candidate for lieutenant governor); Mrs. Delmar T. O'Hara (candidate for representative of the general assembly); Mrs. Elmer T. Phillips, Mrs. Victor Rowland and Mrs. William L. Hart (judicial candidates); Mrs. T. W. Brown (secretary of state) and Mrs. Galen Greenisen (county commissioner). Mrs. Louise DeVoe of Mr. Ebright's office in Columbus also was in the party.

Mrs. Linard brought greetings from Mrs. Robert A. Taft who is recovering from an illness.

The candidates wives told of their husbands' qualifications for the offices they are seeking.

Mrs. Astory announced the slogan for the 18th district as "Let's get the Reds out of the government and the government out of the red." The county chairwoman emphasized the value of one vote and urged the women to get out and work for their party. She pointed out that winning the election is an important factor in retaining the spiritual life of the country.

Others given recognition by Mrs. Astory were T. Emerson Smith of Salem, Columbiana county Republican central and executive committee chairman; Olive Ramsey, Salem chairwoman; Mrs. Margaret Greene of East Liverpool; Mrs. Lynn Riddle of Lisbon; Mrs. H. M. Stambaugh of Leetonia; Mrs. J. A. Martz and Mrs. Frances Morton of Wellsville; Mrs. Cora Detwiler of Columbiana and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lewis of St. Clairsville. Mr. Lewis gave a brief talk.

Among the candidates present were Robert Quinn, Clarence Wetzel, Galen Greenisen and Irvin J. Vorndran.

Before coming to Salem, the caravan stopped at Lisbon where the county organization sponsored breakfast at the Masonic temple. Mrs. Astory officiated and the visiting delegation was introduced by Mrs. Linard. A group of Salem women was among those attending.

From Salem the caravan went to Carrollton for a tea, concluding its three-day visit in the 18th District. The women are attending three to four meetings a day and by Nov. 7 will have covered the 22 districts in the state.

Survivors include three brothers, Alden Hobson of Bartlett, William C. of Marietta and John of Sheridan, Ore.

The body is at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home pending funeral arrangements.

Chest X-Rays Again To Be Given Free Here

Free chest X-ray examinations to combat tuberculosis will be given Friday on the second floor of the Ohio Edison building here, during the hours of 10 to 12, 2 to 4 and 6 to 8.

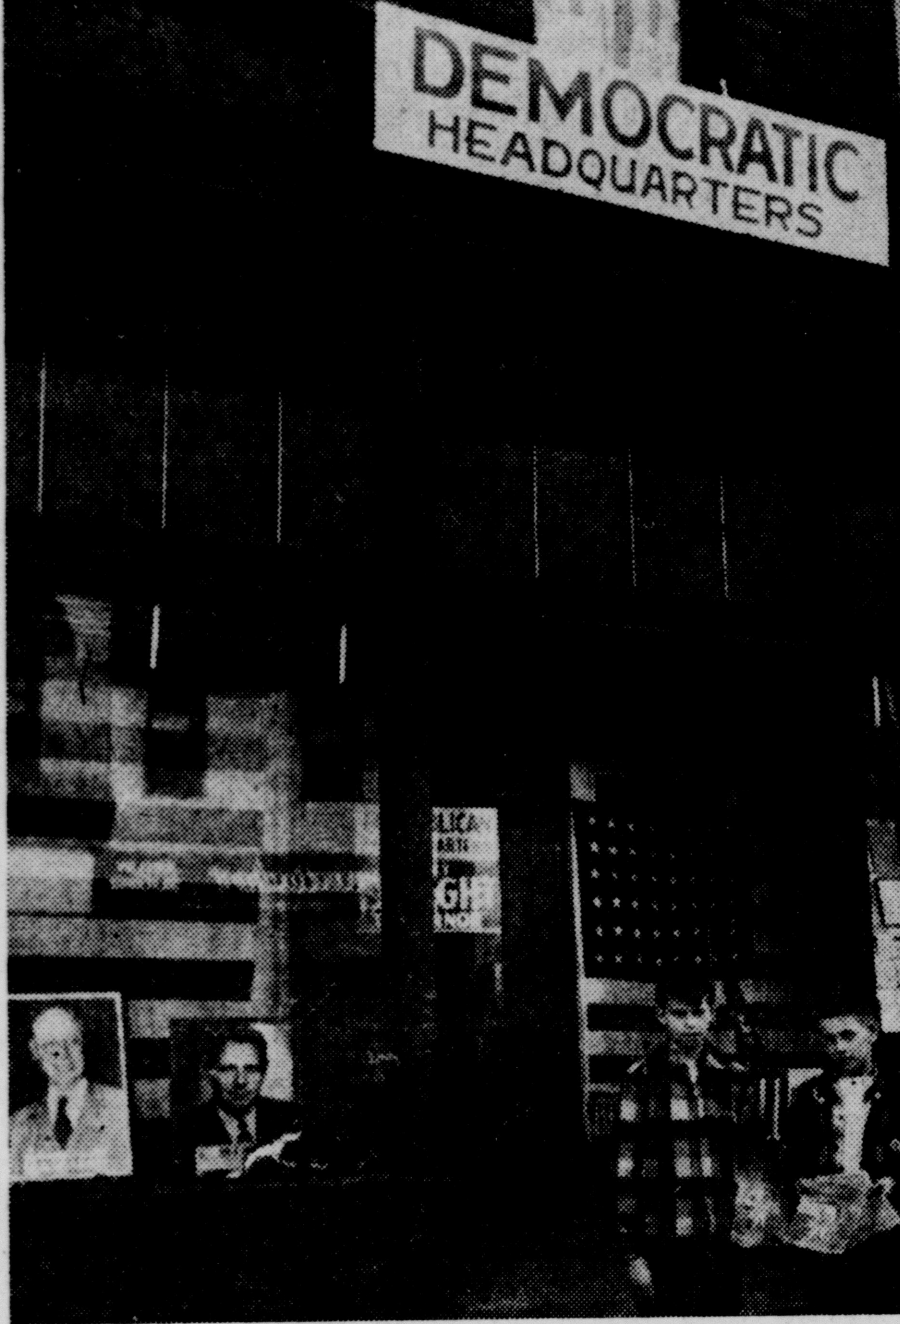

X-rays were given Monday at Salem High school to 378 persons. Local residents are reminded that all reports are confidential and that no waiting is required. The work of the unit is made possible by the sale of Christmas seals.

IT WAS a political day in Salem Wednesday—for Republicans and Democrats alike. Wives of Republican state and district candidates held a luncheon meeting at the Memorial Building when their caravan stopped here. Almost simultaneously Governor Frank Lausche (photo in upper right) spoke at a street rally at the corner of South Broadway and E. State st. The Republican women are shown (upper left) at the dinner meeting with Mrs. Don Ebright, wife of the Republican candidate for governor at the extreme left. It's not very obvious but the picture in the center is the Republican headquarters at 545 E. State st. After the Salem Republicans had opened offices on the ground floor the Democrats moved in upstairs and erected a blazing Democratic sign across the front of the building.

Lausche And Ferguson Back Own Records In Talks Here

Governor Frank J. Lausche and senatorial candidate Joseph T. Ferguson concluded their bids for Columbiana county support with East Liverpool, Lisbon and Salem addresses Wednesday. But their paths did not cross.

Mr. Ferguson spoke to about 150 in the High school auditorium here last night after addressing a similar crowd in East Liverpool, while Gov. Lausche appeared in the afternoon in Lisbon and Salem.

Speaking to a street audience of about 200 at South Broadway and E. State st., Lausche declared that Ohio is in an "excellent financial condition." Despite some $77,000,000 net in new financial burdens, he said, the state government has been operating within current revenues and no new taxes have been incurred during the past two years.

Gov. Lausche listed the following "new obligations" met during his past term: $23,000,000 more for schools, $24,000,000 more for payment of bond issues for veterans, $12,000,000 more for the aged, $6,000,000 more for relief, and $12,000,000 more aid to municipal governments.

The governor added that he stopped the passage of some bills pending in the state legislature which would have incurred $6,000,000 more in state obligations because their passage would have necessitated a one cent sales tax increase.

In Lisbon Lausche hit at strip mine operators who "contend they are a special privilege group." He outlined his fight for strip mine controls and said of the opposition encountered: "I am not granting special privilege to anyone. Special privilege must be driven out of government."

In both East Liverpool and Salem Mr. Ferguson attacked the record of his opponent, Robert A. Taft, with the assertion the Republican incumbent has been "against all legislation that would benefit the veteran, farmer and Negro."

He denied here, however, that he has been conducting a smear campaign, declaring: "It's not my record. It's a black one that he himself (Taft) cannot talk about."

Ferguson listed many of the measures and proposals Taft has voted against, including military aid to Korea in 1949, economic aid to Korea in May of this year.

South Korean Patrols At Communist China Border

BULLETIN
U. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct. 26—(AP)—A headquarters spokesman said today "there is no evidence of overt or open support of North Korea by the Chinese Communist army."

SEOUL, Oct. 26—(AP)—An Allied spearhead reached Red China's Manchurian border tonight.

South Korean patrols raced unopposed to the south bank of the Yalu river, in the center of the uneasy frontier between North Korea and Manchuria. They were the first U. N. troops to complete the long thrust up the mountainous peninsula.

Other elements of the same division—the Republic of Korea (ROK) Sixth—were reported under attack by Chinese Communists some 50 miles to the south. There was no high Allied confirmation, however.

And on the east coast, the U. S. Marine First division spearheaded a 50,000-man landing force at captured Wonsan port.

The Korean Military Advisory Group (KMAG) reported that the honor of being the first U. N. force to reach the Manchurian boundary fell to the Seventh regiment of the ROK Sixth division.

The division, kicking off from Kojang 18 miles south of the border, entered Chosan at 5:50 p. m. (3:50 a. m. Salem time) and sent patrols three miles further north to the winding Yalu.

The report that Red Chinese troops had entered the fighting came from ROK army headquarters, which attributed it to a Chinese Communist prisoner.

A South Korean spokesman reported the Chinese prisoner said three Chinese Red battalions were striking elements of the South Korean Sixth division east of Onjong, about 75 miles north of Pyongyang, the United Nations captured Red Korean capital.

The spokesman said a ROK field commander near Onjong had reported his unit was almost surrounded and called for reinforcements. The field commander did not specify the attackers were Chinese.

Onjong is 32 miles south of Kojang, captured earlier in the day by a spearhead of the South Korean Sixth division. Evidently, the Red force attacking the unit near Onjong waited for the main body of South Koreans to drive north.

Americans Advance
On the west coast an American infantry regiment plunged rapidly northward. It seemed unlikely the doughboys would stop at any line short of the boundary. A. U. S. spokesman said their mission is "to clear Korea."

And the Far East Air Forces' bomb line was extended to the Manchurian border. Previously it had been 12 miles short.

To back up other forces forging northward on the Sea of Japan coast, U. S. and ROK marines and U. S. infantrymen made the new landing at the port of Wonsan.

A remark by a spokesman at General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters raised a doubt as to whether an end of the fourth month United Nations campaign was in sight.

Asked when American troops may be withdrawn from Korea, the spokesman replied they have a mission to perform and that it is far from completed. Other signs pointed to continued mopping up.

Field dispatches from most sectors did not indicate any heavy fighting ahead. American and South Korean columns driving on Red China's Manchurian border were generally unopposed. Allied warplanes still held mastery of the skies, as they had from the outset.

Tour Taken Of Edison Plant

Officials Inspect New Addition At Toronto

Proof of the adequacy of Ohio Edison Company's power supply to meet stepped-up industrial production for defense as well as civilian needs was given some 200 mayors, representatives of Chambers of Commerce and newsmen today in a visit to the company's largest power plant at Toronto on the Ohio river.

From all over the territory served by Ohio Edison, the group gathered to tour one of the company's huge generating stations that supplies electric power to the vital Ohio industrial belt.

One of 14 power plants in the Ohio Edison system (which includes Pennsylvania Power Co.), the Toronto plant's growth was pointed out as indicative of the tremendous increase in power facilities made by the Ohio Edison Company since the end of the war. Today, this one plant can turn out 40 percent more power than in 1945.

For the Edison system as a whole, the increase in generating capacity has been more than 480,000 kilowatts, or 73 percent. Its post-war construction program is the largest in the system's history.

To provide this additional power, along with the necessary substations, transmission and distribution lines and other electric facilities, has required expenditures of approximately $107,300,000 in the four years from 1946 to 1949. In the three years, 1950 to 1952, the companies expect to spend another $91,500,000. Included in this budget is a new plant at Niles that will bring the number of power plants on the system to 15.

At Toronto, the visitors had an opportunity to see the largest addition installed by Edison as part of its post-war construction program. This addition consists of two 60,000-kilowatt turbo-generating units that went into operation during the past 12 months. Each machine, about the size of a locomotive, requires 31 tons of coal an hour to supply it with steam when running at full capacity.

The Toronto plant has seven generating units, capable of turning out 300,000 kilowatts (roughly 400,000 horsepower) of electricity.

Court Gives Cemetery To Township Trustees

The Wilbur Friends Society cemetery of S. Ellsworth ave was awarded to the Perry township trustees by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp Tuesday upon the petition of the trustees of the society.

The petition, filed in the court here several months ago by J. R. Stratton et al as trustees of the Wilbur branch of the Society of Friends, stated the church group was no longer able to operate and maintain the burial ground, and asked that the same be given into care of the township trustees, and that a fund of $1,853.19 on hand be contributed toward erection of a suitable fence around the cemetery by county commissioners.

Judge Sharp decreed that the Perry township trustees should accept the cemetery and money from the Friends Society and keep the cemetery in repair and maintenance.

However, the county commissioners were not required to fence in the cemetery.

Brannan To Decide Fate Of Meat Prices

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—(AP)—How much meat Americans eat next year and what prices they pay for it may hinge upon decisions to be made by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan within the next few weeks.

The administration farm chief must decide whether the government will re-establish price supports as a device for encouraging farmers to produce more hogs to boost 1951 pork supplies.

Economists for the government and the food industry generally agree that the defense program will boost employment and consumer buying power. A larger than normal portion of buying power may be spent at food stores because of the prospect of smaller supplies of new homes, automobiles and appliances.

Protection Of Cadets From Girls Promised

CHESTER, Pa., Oct. 26—(AP)—The colonel, a patient man of military mien, decided today that things around his Pennsylvania military college have gone about as far as they can go.

So Col. Frank K. Hyatt called up Chester police and asked for help to protect his cadets from a "very disturbing influence."

The disturbing influence, he explained, is girls.

Every night for a week, the girls—three to eight at a time—have gathered outside the ivied walls of the 129-year-old military college and "invited the cadets to come out," the colonel complained.

Not only that, he added, but "some of them even whistle at the young men."

Police have promised to help.

Tight Labor Market In Ohio To Continue

COLUMBUS, Oct. 26—(AP)—The Ohio labor market is getting tighter, and regardless of how soon the war in Korea ends "momentum alone will keep the ball rolling for months."

So reports Frank J. Collopy, administrator of the Ohio bureau of unemployment compensation. He added:

"Ohio's metal trades industries have been zooming in the last 12 months. Metal-makers put on 23,000 workers. Metal fabricators hired 10,000 more. Machinery-makers—electrical and non-electrical—added around 43,000. Professional workers such as mechanical engineers, electrical engineers, and draftsmen are also hard to find."

Atomic Work Step-Up Seen

Standard Oil Official Is Commission Head

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—(AP)—The appointment of two industrialists to key posts in the atomic energy and guided missiles programs may signal the start of anticipated step-ups in these war-vital weapons fields.

Marion W. Boyer, Esso Standard Oil Company executive named yesterday as general manager of the atomic energy commission, is a petroleum production expert.

K. T. Keller, appointed by Secretary of Defense Marshall to be director of guided missiles, is president of Chrysler Corp., automobile manufacturers, and also has had wide production experience.

In announcing Boyer's appointment to the top operating job in the multi-billion dollar program for developing nuclear energy—and the hydrogen bomb—AEC Chairman Gordon Dean said: "He brings to this key place in the atomic energy program broad executive and technical experience and a record of outstanding success as the director of large-scale manufacturing and research operations."

Boyer succeeds Carroll Wilson, who resigned Aug. 8 in an explosive split with the AEC chairman.

Wilson, in a statement on his reasons for quitting, complained of a trend toward assumption by the commission itself of a more direct role in actual operations.

Court Asked To Keep Pawek Property Intact

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26—(AP)—A common pleas judge was asked today to prevent Emil Pawek, 54, from selling property of his estranged wife, Bertha Pawek, who has been missing since July 16.

Mrs. Caroline Beadling, 34, of Zanesville, Mrs. Pawek's niece, told Judge Frank J. Merrick that she had been informed Pawek intended to dispose of furniture in the 49-year-old woman's home here.

"I don't believe my aunt is dead, and I won't believe it until I see irrefutable proof," she said. Judge Merrick took the petition under advisement.

Mrs. Pawek disappeared nine days before her husband, formerly a $1,000-monthly tool designer, obtained a divorce. The divorce later was set aside by Judge Merrick after Pawek had married Mrs. Anna Myhling, a divorcee.

A court investigator had been attempting to find the missing woman. She last was seen near Pawek's 540-acre farm at Lisbon.

Dr. Bunche Receives Harvard Position

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 26—(AP)—Harvard university today announced the appointment of Dr. Ralph Bunche, United Nations official and Nobel peace prize winner, as professor of government.

The UN Palestine mediator, grandson of a slave, is the first Negro to hold a Harvard college professorship.

He is now senior director of the United Nations trusteeship council.

University provost Paul H. Buck said Dr. Bunche's professorship "was voted by the corporation on Jan. 16, 1950 and by the board of overseers on April 10, 1950. At that time Dr. Bunche accepted the appointment but received leave of absence because of his present commitments in connection with the United Nations affair."

Speaking Of 'Political Action'

MANY Ohioans wish they could do something to help Senator Taft in his bid for re-election.

They are fearful that his opponents may succeed with their strategy of getting all anti-Taft voters to the polls on Nov. 7 while the Senator's backers are turning out less than 100 percent of the Taft voters.

That was the secret of the last presidential election, which was won by Harry Truman through the default of Thomas Dewey's voters. Over-confidence was blamed in 1948.

What there is in some places is insufficient organization among Senator Taft's friends to offset C.I.O.-P.A.C. and other labor organizations which have fallen in line behind it. P.A.C. stands for Political Action Committee.

The Taft cause could use 100,000 volunteers to start some political action in behalf of their candidate.

All they would need to do would be to get at least two other voters to the polls on election day. If the state's vote is turned out in full, Senator Taft will win. If only his opponents turn out their vote in full, counting on Taft's friends to fall down on the job—and they do fall down—Taft will lose.

He must win enough votes to offset the votes of thousands of federal jobholders and their families. He must offset the bossed votes of the Democratic machine in Cleveland. Starting with that handicap, he must offset the votes of the Ohioans whose opinions have been formed for them by the propaganda experts of the C.I.O.-P.A.C.—and go on from there to win.

The speech-making in the campaign has only one purpose. To stimulate Ohioans into voting on election day. The best help Senator Taft could ask for is volunteer political action to get his votes to the polls on Nov. 7.

Passing Of A Trouper

WITH few exceptions, Americans are able to pay personal tribute to Al Jolson on the occasion of his death. They know who he was, what he did, all about his foibles, how he sang his songs, what kind of jokes he told and what made him a great trouper in their eyes. He was as integral a part of America as the melting pot of a generation ago which brought him here from Russia.

Recognition of trouper is not confined to people in show business, though they set the standards. It has become a distinction bestowed by members of the audience as well as the performers. Using the information freely available about all persons in the entertainment world, they make their own appraisals.

Al Jolson was a great trouper in their book because he entertained for fun. The money that accrued was incidental; he joked about it and spent it—for fun. He never failed an audience and never slighted an occasion. He never let adversity get him down and never let success puff him up. He made no pretensions of being anything more than he was—a fellow with a great talent for singing and joking plus all the standard shortcomings. Things won't be quite so merry with Al Jolson gone.

Ouch!

THE wallop in Harold E. Stassen's bid to Premier Stalin for a face-to-face talk finally has been felt in the Kremlin. The bid was made on Oct. 2. On Oct. 21, Pravda snorted belatedly that it was a "crude and ridiculous" demand.

The reason for the snorting was plain. The Stassen gesture was used for all it was worth by the Voice of America, which beams U.S. propaganda through, over and around the "iron curtain." Pravda's reply simply means that the Voice of America reached enough Russians to make it necessary for their dictatorship to pull some wool over their eyes.

Otherwise, the Stassen incident would have been ignored.

Americans and their government have much to learn about propaganda. The thrust-and-parry technique of influencing public opinion abroad is foreign to American nature. But the Voice of America is beginning to catch on. Material like the Stassen invitation to Stalin and President Truman's speech at San Francisco is invaluable. When it draws an official Russian reply that is the sure sign it has given the uneasy men in the Kremlin some anxious moments.

A model husband tries to make his wife's relatives feel at home even when he wishes they were.

Little worries won't hurt anyone, says a college professor. He should hear them cry at night.

It doesn't pay for long to get paid for what you know when it's only the lowdown on the big boss.

Italy's Prosperity

By PETER EDSON

Reclamation Projects Hold Key To It

NOTHING short of a complete revolution in its 2000-year-old farm, food and land management policies can bring economic stability to Italy. Dr. Howard Cottam, U. S. Department of Agriculture adviser to the American embassy and the Marshall Plan administration in Italy, says it is really a ten-year job. The trouble is, there aren't ten years in which to complete it, to keep the country from collapse.

Dr. Cottam believes that the Italians are now eating as well as they did before the war. This still isn't very good. There are millions of families, particularly in the south, who have meat only twice a year, on Easter and Christmas. The marvel is how they subsist at all.

Sixty per cent of the Italian diet is in grain calories, the rest fruits and vegetables. Under Mussolini, about 8 per cent of the Italian diet, measured in terms of calories, had to be imported. Today, because Italy's population is now 10 per cent greater, about 12 per cent of the calorie-containing items have to be imported.

Overcoming this food deficit, changing the diet and raising the standard of living for all Italians are the big objectives.

Most people have believed that Italy was intensively cultivated and that every inch of fertile soil was utilized. As soon as American farm experts began making their survey, they found out different. Millions of idle acres have now been marked for reclamation, to help feed the surplus population.

THIS MARKED the beginning of a revolution in land management. It began under the U. S. Army of Occupation, which introduced DDT. This literally changed the face of Italy. It killed flies and mosquitoes, wiped out malaria, reduced dysentery, made available for farming some 9,000 acres previously considered uninhabitable.

Over 500 miles of new roads have had to be built, just to give access to areas previously cultivated. A number of reclamation projects have been surveyed and a few have been put in operation. Last May the first land distribution in a reclaimed area took place. Three thousand acres were distributed by lot, as on a U. S. reclamation project opening, by drawing numbers out of a hat.

In Italy, the average family resettled on reclaimed land gets five to six acres if the land is irrigated, 10 acres if the land is merely improved, as by drainage. The farmer is given a loan of about $3000, U. S. equivalent, for equipment and livestock. This and the price of the land must be paid back in 30 years. It is a first stake in independence for many families that have been virtual serfs and share-croppers for many generations.

In addition to these government programs, several private investment companies have gone into land development in southern Italy. But it is too early to tell how these will work out.

Still another type of development is under way on the island of Sardinia. The Rockefeller Foundation of New York has financed a survey of the island's resources. Swamps have been sprayed. Three or four reclamation projects have been staked out for power and irrigation development.

SARDINIA has 1,250,000 people. Sicily, about the same size, has 4,000,000. It is believed that Sardinia could absorb another 2,000,000 people, thus relieving the population pressure on the mainland, if there were housing and land reclamation.

By far the most controversial phase of the Italian land revolution, however, is the breaking up and redistribution of the big estates. Every political party in Italy—including the Communist partisans who were in control of Italy after liberation—demanded this agrarian reform. Italy's new constitution provided for it.

It has taken two years of talk to get under way, but it is now a going thing. Peasants have been permitted to move into idle land and cultivate it. Some 75,000 acres have been expropriated and about 3000 acres distributed to date. Theoretically, the original land owners are to be paid the tax assessment valuation of ten years ago, plus 10 per cent.

There have been disorders, some bloodshed and innumerable charges of mismanagement and injustice in all these undertakings. Italian government employees are paid on so low a scale that graft in administration is common. It is not condoned, but it is perhaps inevitable in a country that must go through a complete social and economic revolution, substituting democracy for feudalism in order to avoid communism.

The Neglected Aged

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

AMERICAN hospital care of the aged and chronically sick is "a national discredit," Dr. A. P. Merrill, superintendent of St. Barnabas hospital for chronic diseases, New York City, declares. "No portion of our nation has been more neglected than the aged during sickness and disease," even though hospitals as a whole have developed brilliantly since 1950, he told the American College of Surgeons meeting in Boston.

The nation's biggest health problem is chronic sickness, much of it stemming from changes of old age, he declared. Chronic diseases blight the lives of 25,000,000 Americans—one in every six, he said. Half of these victims are under 45, and 17 per cent under 25. The country now has 1,500,000 chronic invalids, whose lost time for constructive work runs to one billion days a year.

But most victims of these diseases including TB, arthritis, diabetes and hardening of the arteries, could be helped by modern medicine and the newer skills of rehabilitation, Dr. Merrill said.

One of the greatest needs is for more hospital beds. About 1,000,000 more hospital beds will be needed in the next 10 to 15 years, he said. Of these, two-thirds are needed for the chronically ill, including mental illness and tuberculosis.

We now lack 300,000 beds for the chronically ill, not counting those needed for TB and mental diseases. It would cost $3,333,000,000 to build them and $741,000,000 a year to operate them, Dr. Merrill said.

The country has about 57,000 beds for the chronically ill now, with another 10,000 under construction in hospital projects.

Aging is one of America's biggest growing pains. Age and chronic sickness "overlap, but aren't synonymous," Dr. Merrill said. But with the population growing older, more and more people are going to suffer from chronic illness.

"By 1960, we will have 14 million people 65 and over, and 21.5 millions that age by the year 2000."

Of the 1,500,000 chronic complete invalids, he said, "45 per cent could benefit from active medical treatment in a hospital."

"I have never seen a chronic patient of any category who could not be aided through the focus of adequate rehabilitation techniques and modern medical approach," the hospital consultant said.

Chronic illness is "the number one challenge to our public health" and "must be met successfully if our nation is to survive in peace or war. To neglect this problem is nothing more nor less than self-suicide, and will be as devastating to our national life and welfare."

Dr. Jordan same thing.

Now to Finish the Job

Truman Outlines Peace Requirements

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON THE voice of the government of the United States rang with truth and sincerity as the President delivered to the United Nations on its fifth anniversary one of the finest state papers in recent history.

The clear definition of disinterested purpose, the simple outline of what the requirements for a peaceful world really are, and the promise of patience and conscientious effort to bring about a better and more effective international organization will be regarded as the living doctrine of all free nations in the present period of tension and crisis.

Mr. Truman's advisers undoubtedly gave much thought to the drafting of this message. In a sense, what the President said will give the members of the United Nations an added feeling of confidence in the new amendments to the general assembly procedures which stress a means of utilizing the collective strength of the member nations.

What the President said about the importance of seeking by negotiation to achieve peace but not depending on negotiation alone was expressed without harshness and without offense to any nation. Two sentences in his address epitomize the prevailing policy:

"The United Nations, if it is to be an effective instrument for keeping the peace, has no choice except to use the collective strength of its members to curb aggression. . . .

"Above all, the peace-loving nations must have the military strength available, when called upon, to act decisively to put down aggression."

MR. TRUMAN said that the free nations "intend to build up strength for peace as long as that is necessary." When he took up the problem of disarmament or reduction of armaments, he was also explicit and unequivocal. The agreement must include all kinds of weapons, the plan must be based on unanimous agreement and the plan must be foolproof. "Paper promises," he said, "are not enough," and there must be safeguards founded on "free and open interchange of information across national borders."

The President made plain to the free world what is needed to be done but it is, unfortunately, doubtful if the slave world will be able to read what he has said.

What the President said was heard nevertheless by the Russian delegation and will be read by the few officials in the Soviet orbit who do control policy. They cannot but understand the strength of the President's utterance in mobilizing the rest of the world.

How long can the Soviets maintain within their own country the barriers against information which sooner or later will trickle in and tell the Russian people the truth? Their government's prestige in the world has dropped and a blot has been placed on the Russian name which can only be erased by the Russian people in establishing other spokesmen so that Russia can become a faithful and valued member of the family of nations. Then reduction of armaments can be safely undertaken.

THERE WAS significance, too, as Mr. Truman directed a warning perhaps to the free nations in reference to possible controversies among them. He said:

"Within the spirit and even the letter of the charter (of the U. N.) we should go even further. We must attempt to find peaceful settlements of underlying situations or tensions before they harden into actual disputes."

If somehow before now the American people could have been assured of the leadership here and among the free peoples to carry out such high purposes, the recent opportunities for the Communists to exploit differences of opinion between democracies would have been less.

Likewise, if somehow the means could have been found in the past or can yet be found to reach the hearts and minds of the Russian people, such sincere expressions of the free spirit of the world as President Truman has just proclaimed to the United Nations would begin to fulfill the dream of Woodrow Wilson—the man who in 1919 called for an international conscience among governments and peoples as the only way to promote enduring peace.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

THE way the news about candidates is running it won't be safe to elect anybody this year.

One of the fellows I had in mind to vote for is charged with sending circular letters in a roundabout way . . . another turned out to be a square.

I got an absentee ballot but how can I be sure there won't be substitutions in the lineup before the big game?

Twenty people have told me they're going to stay home on election day . . . from what they've heard about candidates they're afraid to go away and leave the house unguarded.

It's a waste of time, strength and money to go through with this campaigning when the results have already been posted at CIO headquarters.

Prisoner

Train Escape Saves Lives

JAPAN A PRE-DAWN jump from a speeding North Korean Red train saved the lives of Cpl. Arlton B. Craig of Bedford, Va., and four of his buddies.

Craig told today how they escaped the Suncheon massacre by jumping from the prison train as it headed northward in the darkness.

Craig was captured July 26 during the bitter, desperate battle for Taejon. He was with the 19th Regiment of the U.S. 24th Division and was one of the men cut off when the Communists surged across the Kum river. He lost 50 pounds during his imprisonment. But doctors at the Fukuoka hospital, where he is recuperating, said his condition is excellent.

The 20-year-old corporal said the North Koreans treated him fairly well during the early days of captivity. He was marched to Seoul with other prisoners. He was held in the infamous schoolhouse in the capital where liberating troops later found his name among dozens of others scrawled on the blackboard by the prisoners.

CRAIG ALSO survived the death march from Seoul to the Red capital of Pyongyang when more than 300 prisoners were herded along the road and the weakest were shot.

He said the treatment grew worse. Then the prisoners were jammed into a train and sent northward.

Just before the train reached a main tunnel, about 10 miles north of Suncheon, Craig and four others hopped off. They made their way through the fields alongside the railroad and escaped detection.

Those left aboard the train were taken from it shortly thereafter and machinegunned. A total of 68 died.

Craig and his friends hid out until they sighted the men in a First Cavalry Division task force which was punching northward to link with American paratroopers who jumped Friday at Suncheon.

The ragged prisoners came out of hiding and hailed the American troopers. After the first joyful greetings the rescued men got cigarettes, food and treatment alongside the road south of Suncheon.

Craig then was flown to a modern army hospital here.

"I am beginning to feel fine," he said. "It was not known yet when he would be evacuated to the United States."

The Virginian is recovering from a heavy attack of laryngitis.

Mid-Autumn Heat Wave

A mid-autumn heat wave, described by the Weather Bureau as one of the "most intense in history for late October," is bringing record high temperatures in scores of cities from coast to coast.

And more of the same is in prospect, the bureau's latest extended 30-day forecast says.

Since October 10 Indian summer has lain over the whole land with the exception of New England, Florida, Minnesota's Red River valley and northwest Washington.

Lilburn H. Seamon, a climatology expert in the bureau's central office in Washington, D. C., told a reporter "It's been hotter lately in some places than all summer."

For instance: It was 100 in Glendale, Calif., on Oct. 13, the highest temperature Glendale has ever had.

On the 18th, Minneapolis recorded 87, its highest October reading ever. That same week it was 100 in Phoenix, Ariz., 84 in Cleveland, Ohio, 84 in Milwaukee, Wis., 87 in Dubuque, Iowa.

COLUMBIANA, Oct. 26—Homer Detwiler had work started yesterday on grading for the foundation of a new industrial plant on his land just north of the Ohio Edison sub-station, east of S. Elm st., to be occupied under lease as an assembling plant by the Riise Engineering Co. The aim is to have the new plant ready for occupancy by Jan. 1.

The new building will be all-metal construction, 60x62 feet, with delivery of the steel expected by Dec. 1. There will be a runway for a five-ton crane the length of the building. The company makes oil and gas well drilling machinery.

Mr. Detwiler had been interested in the Enterprise Co. here many years until its recent sale to the William K. Stamets Co. of Pittsburgh, and retains an interest in the Riise Co., which had been an affiliate of the Enterprise Co. about 20 years at the time of the sale. It has offices in one of the Enterprise buildings on S. Main st. to be removed.

Mr. Detwiler's land extends almost to the Y. & S. railway. There will be a considerable vacant area between the new plant and the railroad.

LONG-TIME members of Pandora Lodge of Odd Fellows were honored at a supper in the lodge quarters Tuesday evening, followed by an award of pins. James M. arrangements. Mrs. Sarah Green-isen of North Georgetown will show how to braid a rug using 34 strands, while Mrs. Evelyn Boigegrain of North Georgetown will teach methods of wrapping gifts and making Christmas corsages.

New Colors for Bridal Lingerie

THOUGH THE gown-and-robe ensemble is important in the fall bridal lingerie picture, the single gown with fitted or drawstring waistline is very much in evidence, too.

White, as always, is top lingerie color but dove gray and bisque count, too. Pastels, the pale pinks and blues, are minor colors.

Permanent pleating in nylon tricot, embroidery, appliques and lace are all seen as trimming. Necklines are round, camisole or V-and waistlines are clearly defined.

One gown-and-robe ensemble in white rayon crepe (right), designed by Chevette, is piped in red. The gown has a camisole top with shoestring straps in the red. The waist is elasticized for a perfect fit. The robe has slit, elbow-length sleeves with elasticized flounces piped in red.

A full gown in white rayon crepe (left), by Iris, has lace trim, nips in at the waist with a satin ribbon tie. The shoulders, gathered with ribbon, can be smoothed out so that the entire gown is flat for easy ironing. Lace cascades from the neck and forms trim for the deep-cut armholes.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. DAILY DOZEN

By Bob Dixon

• We're not in the press agent business as yet, but it might be a good idea for local football fans, deprived of their favorite team, to watch the Massillon Tigers play Warren Harding Friday night.

• The tilt will be played at Massillon and tickets are on sale in Salem. According to Tiger authorities, it may be the best game of the year for the state champs.

• Coach Chuck Mather said Wednesday he "expects trouble from Warren." He figures the game a bigger hurdle than the Barborton tussle later on.

• Massillon's starting lineup Friday night will average 195 pounds across the line and about 170 in the backfield. Warren will field a team just as heavy.

• The Tigers have won six in a row mostly by overpowering their opposition. With all the beef in the Warren line, they'll have some trouble pushing it around.

• The big offensive gun for Massillon is big Bob Howe, 205-pound pile-driving fullback, who came out of nowhere this season to take over the bulk of the running and kicking.

• He is a powerhouse runner who is fast enough to go for a touchdown from any point on the field. Mather hadn't counted on the boy this season, but his fierce play automatically put him in the lineup. Now he's almost a cinch for All-State honors.

• Mather says he is on guard against that "let-down" night which could prove costly to the undefeated Tigers. In his two years at the Massillon helm, Chuck has lost a game each season. This year he wants to go all the way.

• There are some other football tilts on tap this week which might be interesting. Tonight in Youngstown, undefeated South meets its chief rival, East, in a game to settle the city series title.

• East Liverpool is in a tizzy, observing "beat Martins Ferry Week." They play tonight at East Liverpool and the Potters are still smarting from the Ferry win of 1949, when the Columbiana county team felt it was robbed.

• Lisbon, with only a tie with Boardman soiling an otherwise perfect record, will play Leetonia Saturday night at Lisbon. The game figures to be another romp for Bud Bucher's powerhouse. The same goes for its next tilt against Columbiana.

• The football week winds up Sunday afternoon at Cleveland Stadium, with the Browns facing the Pittsburgh Steelers in a "must" game. They must beat Pittsburgh to stay in the N.F.L. race. One more loss and they are out.

Touch Loop Captains To Attend Meeting

Captains of teams playing in the Touch Football League are requested to meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Memorial building to discuss the charge that teams are adding more players than the required number. The playoff setup also will be discussed.

Deville's Grocery will tangle with the Western Stars at 1 p.m. Sunday, while the Amvets will engage Watertons at 2 and the Northerners will take on Hoppes Tires at 3.

For nine consecutive years — 1907 to 1915 — Ty Cobb led the American League in batting.

Michigan State Picked To Beat Notre Dame

Irish Underdogs For First Time

Army Set To Stomp Columbia Saturday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 26—(AP)—Notre Dame is an underdog to Michigan State in Saturday's football game. Who can remember when the Irish last were expected to lose? So, how can a football forecaster be expected to pick the winner?

But who is afraid? So here goes.

Army vs. Columbia: The Cadets, former No. 1 team, were spilled by Columbia three years ago but there is no likelihood that the lightning will strike in the same place again. Army.

Notre Dame vs. Michigan State: Who can remember when the Irish last were underdogs? Michigan State started the season with two objectives—to beat Michigan and Notre Dame. Michigan was beaten in the opener. Notre Dame is due to get its setback Saturday. Michigan State.

OKLAHOMA vs. Iowa State: Bill Weeks may give Oklahoma some trying moments with his passes but the Sooners will prevail. Oklahoma.

Kentucky vs. Georgia Tech: Vito Parelli is a masterful T formation quarterback and Tech has no engineer his equal. Kentucky.

Princeton vs. Cornell: This could be the decisive game of the Ivy League campaign. Both clubs are unbeaten. The Tigers are favored because Cornell may have trouble solving the single wing attack. Princeton.

Illinois over Indiana: The Illini running attack finally has reached high gear, as Washington learned last week. Hoosier passes may be a bother if the weather is good. Illinois.

UCLA vs. Purdue: Another game in which the home field may be the decisive factor. Purdue.

Stanford vs. Washington: Each was tumbled from the undefeated ranks last Saturday. The Huskies get their second defeat this week. Stanford.

Northwestern vs. Wisconsin: It is the Wildcats' homecoming. Northwestern.

Texas vs. Rice: All kinds of trouble can be expected here but the Longhorns should squeak through. Texas.

Here are the others:

EAST: Baldwin-Wallace over Ursala, Brown over Colgate, Dartmouth over Harvard, Duquesne over Louisville, Lafayette over Bucknell, Miami over Pittsburgh, Penn State over Temple, Penn over Navy, Rutgers over Lehigh, Syracuse over Boston University, Williams over Tufts, Yale over Holy Cross, Georgetown over Villanova.

SOUTH: Florida over Furman, Maryland over Duke, North Carolina State over Virginia Tech, North Carolina over William & Mary, Tennessee over Washington and Lee, Tulane over Auburn, Vanderbilt over Arkansas, Virginia over West Virginia, Wake Forest over Clemson, Alabama over Mississippi State, Mississippi over Texas Christian.

MIDWEST: Cincinnati over Western Michigan, Michigan over Minnesota, Missouri over Oklahoma A. & M., Ohio State over Iowa, Marquette over Santa Clara, Kansas over Nebraska.

SOUTHWEST: Texas A. and M. over Baylor, Texas Tech over Texas Western.

FAR WEST: Colorado A. and M. over Utah State, Colorado over Utah, Oregon State over Montana, Southern California over Oregon, Wyoming over New Mexico, California over St. Marys.

Broadcasting Up For Discussion

Pacific Coast League Tries To Beat Draft

CINCINNATI, Oct. 26—(AP)—Radio broadcast of major league games and the Pacific Coast League's long struggle to be excluded from the baseball draft will be considered here next week at meetings of baseball's major and minor league bigwigs.

Commissioner A. B. Chandler said he had called a meeting for Oct. 31 of the major and minor league executive councils. That session will be for a discussion of the rule governing broadcast of major league games in minor leagues cities.

The next day the commissioner will meet with representatives of the three Class AAA leagues — Pacific Coast, American Association and International — for a discussion of the coast loop's plea.

Some minor league club owners have claimed their attendance has been hurt by the broadcast of major league games. Scheduled to be considered by the executive council is the rule which now allows major league games to be broadcast in minor league cities only when the minor league team is not playing or with the consent of the minor league owner.

The Pacific Coast League issue is one which has been before baseball at various times for the past several years.

The Pacific Coast League wants the major leagues to quit drafting players from its teams. In turn, the coast loop says it won't draft from teams in the lower minors.

The Coast League's move has been interpreted at various times as being a step toward recognition as a third major league.

Chandler already had set Nov. 16 as the date for the annual draft from the minors by the majors. On that day the major league club owners also will meet here to consider possible repeal or abolishing of the bonus rule and to decide whether players should share in the $975,000 paid baseball this year for World Series television and radio rights.

Ray Robinson Meets Hawaiian In Philly

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26—(AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson puts his Pennsylvania version of the middleweight boxing title on the line tonight with little likelihood there'll be any change in his top rating among the nation's fighters.

Sleek Ray from Harlem, also holder of the world's welterweight crown, meets 22-year-old Carl (Bobo) Olson of Honolulu in a 15-round engagement at Convention hall. Robbie's welter crown is not at stake.

Robinson will be operating tonight at his best fighting weight at approximately 155 pounds. He'll be giving away four pounds and eight years but the 30-year-old Robinson is the top heavy favorite.

Blame TV For Smaller Crowds

College Attendance Off 2 Percent In '50

NEW YORK, Oct. 26—(AP)—College football attendance is off about 2 percent and television is catching most of the blame.

An Associated Press survey of 262 games played by 105 schools shows average 1950 crowds of 22,867 as compared to 23,275 a year ago. Last fall a similar check in mid-season reflected a 4 percent increase.

Both the southwest and south show an increase. The big drop is in the far west and east. Midwest attendance is only slightly off.

"Television is too big for us," said a Louisville university spokesman. "We don't know the answer but something must be done."

Yale's business manager, William Perkins, is apprehensive although Yale has played to 124,000 in four home dates. Last year at this time they had 74,000 for two, a much better average.

"We're going to be substantially off," said Perkins. "And television is to blame more than anything else."

Apparently there is no TV problem in the southwest where the attendance shows a sharp 21 percent increase. The south also is doing better business by some 7 percent.

The far west decline is 11 percent, the east 8 percent and the midwest only 1 percent.

The total attendance to date of the 105 schools, perhaps one fourth of those playing football, is 5,991,034. Probably at least 9,000,000 saw college games at all schools to date.

Michigan shows the way with 255,513 for three home games, followed by Rice's 190,000 for three. Ohio State, always among the leaders, expects to better last year's record with a late season rush. Ohio had played to 153,809 in only two home games.

Others up near the top are Tulane with 166,666 for four, California with 151,000 for three, Southern Methodist with 130,847 for two. Some 20 schools are already over the 100,000 mark.

Never in the 54-year history of Big Ten football has a conference team won three successive championships.

Bucks Pass Defense Leaks In Practice

COLUMBUS, Oct. 26—(AP)—More pass defense work occupied the Ohio State football squad on the practice field yesterday in preparation for Saturday's Iowa game.

It appeared the players and the coaches as well were reacting to reports from the Iowa campus that the Hawkeyes plan to fill the air with passes in the Buck stadium—the same ground where Southern Methodist downed Ohio State with aerials in the season's opener.

Tony Curcillo, varsity quarterback, emulated the Iowa passer Glenn Drahm in the workout, while end Tom Watson performed in the role of the Hawks' ace receiver, Bob Hoff. The Curcillo-Watson combination, operating against the varsity defense platoon, completed what onlookers thought were "an alarming number" of passes.

Dick Dunkel's COLLEGE FOOTBALL POWER INDEX

EXPLANATION—The Power Index provides a direct comparison of the relative strength of any two teams for this season to date. Thus, a 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger than a 40.0 team on their comparative records, in which scoring margin has been weighed against strength of opposition. This does not necessarily mean that a 50.0 team should defeat a 40.0 team by exactly 10 points in the future. Teams rarely follow past performance that closely. The Dunkel system correlates records of all college teams and was started in 1929.

Warm Weather Returns After Frosty Night

Warmer weather returned to Salem today after a chilly night of sub-freezing lows and is expected to stay with us a couple of days.

The area was lodged comfortably in a rising trend as the mercury climbed to 55 degrees at noon today and sunshine brightened the weather picture. Last night's low dipped to a freezing 19 degrees, with heavy frost.

Friday is expected to be cloudy and warmer with a high in the low sixties. Lows for tonight and the next few nights are forecast as relatively cool but not as cool as last night.

Louis Horvath, 74, of East Palestine received a bruised chest in an accident at 7:30 a. m. today on Route 14, a mile east of Unity. He was the driver of a car which was struck by a tractor-trailer outfit driven by Harold C. Veran, 35, of Flint, Mich.

You Can't Build A Better Mousetrap!

"They're not the best-looking boarders a man ever had," Hack Turner said one day, "and they've got awful tempers. But I've found it pays to have 'em around."

Hack was talking about a family of barn owls, nesting in his silo this year. Some folks believe those little white-faced screechers kill chickens—and ought to be shot on sight. But Hack disagrees.

"Up at State University they've studied barn owls for years—and never known one to eat a chicken. On the other hand, a daddy owl will clean up around 300 mice a month. Farmers that kill barn owls are throwing away the best mousetraps known to man!"

From where I sit, when someone shows a prejudice against any group of animals or humans—it's usually just based on misunderstanding. For instance, some folks are plumb intolerant about those of us who enjoy an occasional quiet glass of beer. Get to really know us and you're liable to find we're pretty good birds at that!

the appointment of Gen. George C. Marshall as secretary of defense, housing for paralyzed veterans, G. I. education bill and servicemen's free franking privileges and pay increases.

"Voters must decide Nov. 7 whether we retain prosperity under Mr. Truman, backed by men like myself," he said "or return to the days of Hoover and men like Taft."

Ferguson said he believes a country that is able to draft men for fighting "should be able to draft some of the extra profits gained during the war." He opined that the sales tax in Ohio is not properly enforced.

The battling Democrat also had a rebuttal to his opponent's claim that his campaign is being run by out-of-state interests, declaring he was proud to have Vice President Alben Barkley speak in his behalf. Ferguson cited recent talks in Ohio by Fulton Lewis, Jr., and George Socolsky as out-state assists to the Republican party.

Ballot Could Confuse Cleveland's Voters

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26—(AP)—To vote for continuing daylight saving time each summer, Cleveland citizens must mark "no" on this ballot listing next month: "The standard of time throughout the city of Cleveland shall be that of the 75th meridian of longitude west from Greenwich."

The city chose that wording because that's the way standard time is described in state and municipal laws.

Grinning Jack O'Lanterns Make Good Dessert

AMONG the smiles that make children happy are the smiles of jack o' lanterns of all kinds, from the traditional pumpkinheads to decorated marshmallows floating in their cocoa. Pictured here are colorful and novel jack o' lanterns that not only are gay and cheerful representatives of the "jack" family, but also provide an appropriate Halloween party dessert. Made of hollowed-out oranges and filled with delicious, colorful, raspberry-flavored gelatin.

they are as decorative as they are delicious. Children will love to look at them and to eat them. You'll find that these gelatin jack o' lanterns bring more than their share of smiles to the party table.

ORANGE JACK O' LANTERNS
4 large oranges
2 cups hot water and orange juice
1 package raspberry-flavored gelatin
1 cup diced drained orange sections, free from membrane. Wash oranges, with small sharp knife, cut eyes, nose and mouth in side of orange. Carefully remove pulp and juice and reserve. Wrap remaining orange shells in damp cloth until ready to use.

Add reserved orange juice to hot water to make 2 cups. Dissolve gelatin in the hot liquid. Chill until slightly thickened. Reserve 4 cups and chill until firm. Add orange pulp and diced orange sections to remaining gelatin and chill until firm.

Just before serving, pile fruited gelatin into reserved orange shells. Replace slices cut from top. Cut plain gelatin in tiny pieces and insert in holes cut for eyes, nose and mouth.

3-DECKER SANDWICH
4 slices bacon
4 slices bread
4 slices American cheese (cut to fit bread slices)
2 medium-sized tomatoes
salt
1/4 t sugar
1/4 t finely crushed dried basil
Cut bacon slices in half crosswise and put in heavy skillet; cook until almost done on each side over low heat. Meanwhile toast bread under broiler on one side only; place cheese slices on untoasted sides of bread. Drain bacon and place 2 pieces on top of each cheese slice, leaving space in middle.

Cut away ends of tomatoes and then cut each into 4 round slices. Place a tomato slice between bacon; cut 4 remaining tomato slices in half crosswise and place at each end of round tomato slices. Sprinkle tomato with salt, sugar and basil. Place under broiler and broil under moderately low heat until tomato is hot and cooked through. Makes 2 servings.

PRUNE SUPPER SALAD
16 cooked prunes
1 1/2 cups finely diced tart apple
1/2 cup finely diced celery
1/3 cup crumbled crisp-cooked bacon
1/2 t celery salt
Mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing
Salad greens
Paprika
Slit prunes down one side and remove pits. Mix apple, celery, bacon and celery salt. Moisten with mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing. Refill prunes with apple mixture. Arrange stuffed prunes on salad greens. Sprinkle tops with paprika. Makes 4 servings.

Festive Sunday Breakfast

GO to town for Sunday breakfast and make a deliciously fresh and fine-tasting coffee kuchen for the family to gobble up with scrambled eggs and bacon and tall glasses of milk or big cups of coffee. Preface breakfast with fruit, of course. If you use our recipe for coffee kuchen you'll have a beautifully nutritious menu because it features that ace of inexpensive nutrient-packed foods—nonfat dry milk. Nonfat dry milk is especially convenient in making such hot breads as this kuchen because it can be sifted together with the flour and other dry ingredients and water added as the liquid.

COFFEE NUT KUCHEN
For Cake:
2 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 T nonfat dry milk
1/3 cup sugar
3 1/2 t baking powder
1 t salt

Roast Chicken The Proper Way

EVERYBODY likes roast chicken. It's a top favorite American Sunday special. But not everyone knows how to roast it perfectly. Maybe these expert instructions will help.

Stuff just before it is to be roasted—not ahead of time. Allow about 1 1/4 cups of stuffing per pound of chicken, ready-to-cook weight. Rub 1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt into the body cavity and the wishbone section lightly. Don't pack the stuffing. If the giblets or other meats are added to the stuffing, they must be previously cooked.

Truss the chicken. Brushing the skin with fat helps to hold in the juices, helps to brown and crisp the skin and prevents drying out of the chicken. Any cooking fat may be used. Grease the bird on the rack in the roasting pan. Leave the bird breast down. The V-shaped rack holds the bird in an upright position. A flat rack may be used in which case the bird rests on one side of the breast. The rack should be at least 1/2-inch high to raise the bird off the bottom of the pan, allowing heat to circulate and cook the chicken evenly.

Place roasting pan in a preheated slow oven (325 deg. F.). It is not necessary to sear, to add water or to cover the chicken for good roasting. Correct roasting is slow cooking by dry heat on a rack in a shallow open pan. Sometimes a fat-moistened cheesecloth is placed over the chicken. It should be large enough to cover the top and hang down the sides. The chicken is not wrapped in the cloth. The cloth holds the fat at the surface. Basting during roasting is unnecessary. It may be done if desired.

Test for "Doneness"
To test for doneness press the thickest part of the drumstick—meat should be very soft between the fingers. Protect the fingers with a folded paper or cloth. Another test is to move the leg by grasping the end, joints should move readily or break. Chicken may be turned breast up when about 3/4 done to increase browning of breast.

Note the color of the meat drippings on the bottom of the pan. A low roasting temperature assures excellent drippings, rich in color and flavor for the gravy, not burned or dried on the pan.

CABBAGE CARROT SLAW
2 cups shredded cabbage
1 cup finely diced carrots
salt (to taste)
1/2 cup mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing
1/4 cup light cream
1 t Worcestershire sauce
1 t finely grated onion
1/4 t prepared mustard
Mix cabbage and carrots together lightly and sprinkle with salt to taste. Blend mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing with cream, Worcestershire sauce, onion and mustard. Add to cabbage and carrots and mix thoroughly but lightly. Makes 4 servings.

Beef-Rice Chili Easy To Make

SOME occasions call for a dinner that can be created only with skill, patience and care. For these, every homemaker ungrudgingly invests the required time and effort. But there are days when time and energy must be spent in other ways and dinner must be as quick and easy as possible. Helpful for these days is a reference file of menus and recipes that take full advantage of speed without sacrificing other values.

An example of a tasty one-dish meal such as this is the beef-rice-chili dish which combines three tasty ingredients into one top-notch dish. Chili powder is the spice that gives it a special flavor. Once you have served this quick one-dish main course, the family will ask for it again and again.

BEEF-RICE CHILI

1 pound ground beef
1/2 cup chopped onions
3 T fat
1 package (1 1/3 cups) pre-cooked rice
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1 cup chili sauce
1 1/2 t chili powder
2 t salt
dash of pepper

Cook beef and onions together in large skillet, until lightly browned, stirring occasionally. Add pre-cooked rice, boiling water, chili sauce and seasonings. Mix well. Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Pear Blossom Quenches Halloween Thirst

NO party is more fun than a Halloween party with witches and goblins riding high and young people in fine spirits. Halloween's a night for revelry. What with games like spin-the-platter and ducking for apples, appetites will be lusty and thirsts practically unquenchable.

Don't serve elaborate food or too many courses. It is wiser to have plenty of one thing, say hot dogs or hamburgers, and be prepared with good drinks to slake thirsts.

You might have bottles of ginger ale, cola and fruit flavored beverages chilled in the refrigerator. Grape juice and ginger ale in equal quantities or orange juice and ginger ale in the same proportions are fine drinks for youngsters.

Make a fruit lemonade in a tall pitcher by combining the juice of two lemons and four oranges with powdered sugar or sugar syrup to sweeten. Add ice cubes and fill the pitcher with ginger ale.

Pears are good now and here is a delicious party recipe. Select juicy, well flavored pears for this recipe.

PEAR BLOSSOM

1 pear, peeled and cut in quarters

1 T lemon juice

1/4 cup heavy cream

Ginger ale

Combine pear and lemon juice; blend until smooth. Pour into tall glass. Add heavy cream. Fill glass with ice cold ginger ale. Stir gently to blend.

Pumpkin Cake for Halloween

THERE'S nothing young spooks like better on Halloween than a big slab of homemade cake. Here's a cake made with strained pumpkin, sour milk and spices and raisins. It is covered with a shiny white frosting decorated with colored frosting autumn leaves.

Pumpkin Raisin Cake

One cup brown sugar

1/2 cup white sugar

1/2 cup shortening

2 eggs, well beaten

2 cups sifted flour

1/4 t soda

2 1/2 t baking powder

1/2 t cinnamon

1/2 t nutmeg

1/4 t cloves

1/2 t salt

1/2 cup cooked, strained pumpkin

1/2 cup sour milk

1/4 cup raisins (or walnuts)

Cream sugar and shortening together until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs one-half at a time. Sift flour, soda, baking powder, spices and salt together. Add alternately to butter mixture with pumpkin and milk, beating well after each addition. Add raisins to last portion of flour.

Turn into 2 greased and paper lined 8-inch layer pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 25 to 30 minutes or until cake springs back when pressed gently in center. Let stand 5 minutes and then invert onto cake rack to cool. Frost with desired white icing flavored with lemon.

Pumpkin Chiffon Custard

(Serves 8)

Three eggs, separated, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/3 cup sugar, 1/4 cup cooked, strained pumpkin, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 cups milk, scalded, 1/2 cup caramel syrup, 1/2 cup heavy cream, if desired.

Beat egg yolks until thick. Add salt, sugar, pumpkin, grated rind and spices. Stir in milk gradually. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Place 1 tablespoon caramel syrup in bottom of 8 greased custard cups. Fill with custard mixture. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean.

Sprinkle lightly with nutmeg and let stand until cold. Unmold onto dessert dishes and garnish with whipped cream if desired.

Note: Custard may be baked in one large baking dish. Bake 45 to 50 minutes or until knife comes out clean.

COLOR PREFERENCES

Research has shown that brunettes prefer red, while blondes usually prefer blue, Latin races like the warmer, more brilliant hues. Nordics usually favor cooler, softer tones.

Before frosting a cake be sure to brush the crumbs from the sides and top.

For cauliflower de luxe, serve it with cream sauce and top with finely chopped Brazil nuts or lightly toasted almonds.

Next time you make Waldorf salad, add a little prepared horseradish to the salad dressing that goes over the apples and celery.

VEAL prices are lower and that's good news to a lot of people. So let's celebrate with this "extended" and therefore economical veal treat.

Veal Steak Savory

One-third cup flour

1/2 t. salt

1 veal steak, cut 1 1/2-inches thick (about 3 pounds)

2 t. paprika

3 medium onions, sliced

3 T. fat

1 cup sour cream

1 8-ounce can tomato sauce

1/4 t. baking soda

1/2 cup beer or water

1 t. sugar

Combine flour and salt; rub in to veal steak. Rub 1 teaspoon paprika into each side of floured steak. Cook onions in fat until soft and golden brown; remove from pan. Brown steak well on both sides in pan in which onions were cooked. Spread onions over steak.

Combine sour cream, tomato sauce, baking soda, beer or water and sugar; pour over steak and onions. Cover; simmer about 1 hour or until meat is tender. Thicken gravy if desired. Six servings.

Frankfurter Casserole

One No. 2 can sauerkraut

1 medium onion, minced

1 t. salt

3 T. butter or fortified margarine

1 cup beer or water

6 frankfurters

Put sauerkraut in casserole; top with onion; sprinkle with salt; dot with butter or margarine.

ine. Pour beer or water over all. Bake in slow oven (300 deg. F.) 2 1/2 hours. Arrange frankfurters on top of sauerkraut for last hour of cooking. Six servings.

Liver and Rice Loaf

One-half cup rice

4 cups boiling water

1 pound sliced beef or pork liver

2 T. fat

1 small onion, chopped fine

1 cup chopped celery

1/4 cup chopped parsley

2 T. flour

1 cup cooked or canned tomatoes

2 t. salt

Cook the rice tender in boiling water but do not drain. Let the rice absorb the water to acquire the sticky texture that helps hold the loaf together. Wipe the liver with a damp cloth. (Scald pork liver). Sprinkle liver with salt and flour and cook in skillet about 3 minutes. Cook onion, celery and parsley in the drippings a few minutes. Add flour and tomatoes and stir briskly until thickened.

Then mix all ingredients until thoroughly blended. Form into a loaf on parchment paper and place on a rack in an open roasting pan. Bake about 30 minutes in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.). Serves 5-6.

Slivers of leftover cooked ham are delicious added to a tomato-and-spaghetti casserole. Top with grated yellow cheese.

Serve Cheeses for Dessert

CHEDDAR, Blue, Gouda, Bel Paese, Camembert, Swiss and Munster—these are wonderful eating words. Serve several of these wonderful cheeses on a board or tray for dessert, along with crackers and fresh fruit. The whole family will enjoy them.

Like all dairy foods, cheese is a valuable food. It is a concentrated form of milk—containing most of the protein, calcium, phosphorus, iron and vitamins found in milk. Because of its concentration cheese ranks high in food value.

Leftover cheese can be stored in the refrigerator wrapped in heavy waxed paper or aluminum foil, fresh and ready for a quick snack or to be used in combination with another food for a main dish feature.

Cheese Bread Ring
One loaf white bread
2 eggs
1 cup milk
½ cup butter
1 cup grated cheddar cheese
1 teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon grated onion
½ teaspoon salt
dash pepper
¼ cup dry bread or cracker crumbs

Cut bread into small cubes. Stir in eggs. Heat milk over low heat until butter has melted. Add to bread mixture. Fold in grated cheese; add paprika, onion, salt and pepper. Place in well buttered ring mold that has been coated with the dry bread or cracker crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 45 minutes or until firm and golden brown. Turn out on serving plate and fill center with Creamy Vegetable Filling. Serve immediately.

Creamy Vegetable Filling
One can condensed cream of celery soup
½ cup evaporated milk (undiluted)
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 package frozen mixed vegetables (leftover vegetables may be substituted)
1 tablespoon grated onion
Combine condensed soup and evaporated milk until smooth in top of double boiler. Add seasonings and cook over boiling water until simmering. Cook vegetables according to the directions on the package. Stir cooked vegetables and grated onion into soup mixture. Heat for 5 minutes. Serve immediately with Cheese Bread Ring.

A cup of leftover baked beans makes a delicious luncheon salad when teamed with cubes of crisp apple, shredded cabbage, and mayonnaise. Rinse the beans in lukewarm water before adding to the salad and then mix with other ingredients and moisten with mayonnaise and season.
